OneSource Provides Complete Turnkey Managed Digital Services (MDS)

Managed Digital Services (MDS)

OneSource can provide complete turnkey Managed Digital Services (MDS), including managed device services, web-based application hosting and digital device monitoring, or we can streamline the process for customers getting started on their own in-house hosting efforts. These services are segmented into three separate and unique offerings: Hosted Digital Services (HDS) or Software as a Service (SaaS), Remote Management & Monitoring Services (RMS) and Technical Services & Support (TSS)

Hosted Digital Services (HDS)

Hosted Digital Services (HDS), commonly referred to as Software as a Service (SaaS) can be the solution for you if you want your kiosk, digital signage or digital directory project to be implemented swiftly and in the most cost effective manner. Hosted Digital Services can be the answer to your vertical market application or enterprise digital device network, as the solution we provide enables you to reduce application operation and total cost of ownership (TCO) and realize a quicker return on investment (ROI).

Remote Management & Monitoring Services (RMS)

OneSource manages and maintains a sophisticated remote monitoring server to provide complete remote content management, proactive monitoring, and usage analysis for your kiosk, digital signage or digital directory network. Remote monitoring software greatly simplifies the management of your deployed kiosk network. It essentially functions as an information control center to and from the network, providing: Real-time information on machine health & immediate status alerts if a kiosk needs attention and piece of mind.

Technical Services & Support (TSS)

OneSource routinely provides field based services for its regional customers and we have developed a strong international services partner network that has extensive experience in field service, project & process management and logistics. Through our partnerships, we provide customers, deployers, partners and end users in all vertical markets a reliable and trustworthy partner. We offer a turnkey solution that specializes in "local" technicians managed by a customer focused high quality process with reporting and metrics.
